

Have you heard about 10-Min Mingle?

What is it?

It's an online social mixer aimed at getting to know your colleagues.

I went last time. It was pretty neat. Fun and casual.

What's the point? I am so busy already.

Well, there is a benefit to having a more connected work environment. For me, just putting faces to the names I see all the time in HealthConnect was helpful.

10 -Min Mingle is evolving based on our feedback. This time, they are introducing an option to be pre-assigned to a group with people who have similar interests.

Okay, I will check it out. But my focus is always on doing serious and hard work. This sounds too fun and relaxing for me.

Haha~ You definitely deserve a break
